

INDIANS MEET COYOTES AT 3 P. M. TODAY

ANNUAL FOOTBALL CLASH WILL BE STAGED ON HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC FIELD

Indians Have Slight Weight Advantage
Over Pale Face Brothers—Average Line
Weight Nearly Equal—Redskin Backs
Heavy—Open Play to be Feature

What the annual Yale-Harvard football clash is in eastern football circles, so is the yearly gridiron struggle between the Phoenix Indian and high school teams to the Salt River valley—a struggle that will be waged with a fierceness that comes only after years of the keenest kind of rivalry—to be decided at the new high school athletic field this afternoon. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Seldom has this athletic classic attracted so much attention as this year. Twenty-two moleskin-clad warriors are anxiously awaiting the whistle that will enmesh them in the feature sporting event of the entire year while several thousand fans have made preparations for attending the conflict.

All in Readiness
If Old Sol will not peek his head through the rain-laden clouds today, the setting will be complete. Elaborate preparations have been made for handling a record breaking crowd and the field has been protected from the showers. Unless a storm breaks today, the gridiron will be in good shape for the game, although probably a trifle heavy.

Final touches were applied by Coaches Duran and Geary last evening. This game, the climax of the season, gives promise of bringing to light the finer brand of football ever exhibited in this city.

Both teams, it is stated, have been carefully drilled in plays that are sure to electrify the crowd. Trick plays, spread formations, lateral passes, forward passes, outside kicks, fake backs and delayed passes will all make their appearance at some time or another during the proceedings this afternoon.

Use of the forward pass may be limited owing to the weather conditions, but otherwise, the game will not suffer as an exhibition of modern football. And even the forward pass may be frequently employed as a means of advancing the ball if the rain holds off.

Teams Well Matched
Notwithstanding a defeat at the hands of the Coyotes earlier in the season, the Indians will take the field this afternoon with many supporters. Duran has accomplished a complete reformation in his proteges, it is stated and they will give a good account of themselves.

A defense that is designed to stop the Coyote basketball method of attack has been perfected. The line defense of the team was well demonstrated in the first meeting a few weeks ago when the Indians twice held the high school lads within their own four-yard line.

On the other hand, Geary has not been asleep and should his forward passes fall, he has given his players trick plays that can be used in an emergency.

The Indians will have a slight weight advantage this afternoon. The average weight of the Coyotes is 151 and a fraction, while the Redskins average nearly 155. On the line, the teams are evenly matched, the Indians having a slight shade in the matter of avoirdupois. Behind the line, however, the advantage is distinct, the Indian backs averaging almost ten pounds more to the man than their paleface brothers.

Fifteen minute quarters will be played.

COYOTES MAY PLAY SANTA MONICA ON COAST DECEMBER 6

Prospects of the Phoenix Union high school football team journeying to Los Angeles for a post-season game early in December looked much brighter yesterday, the result of a conditional offer from Santa Monica high to accept the Phoenix proposition for a game on the coast.

Santa Monica high will agree to the game providing it is defeated in its game with Long Beach high at Long Beach, Saturday. This is one of two semi-final games to be played Saturday in the race for the Southern California football championship. Should Santa Monica succeed in beating Long Beach, the team will be obliged to play the following week in the finals.

Inasmuch as the only open date is December 6, the team must suffer defeat to assure the Coyotes the game.

While Coach Geary and his men much prefer a game with some undefeated squad, the Santa Monica team will be satisfactory in lieu of a game with the southern California champions.

The Coyote athletic directors have agreed to finance the game, paying all expenses for the local squad. The only obligation assumed by Santa Monica high is in guaranteeing the Phoenix team 50 per cent of the gate receipts. Final arrangement for the game will be perfected at a meeting to be held at the high school at 11 o'clock this morning.

VALUABLE PRIZES OFFERED WINNERS OF TEN-MILE RACE

Eight Indian athletes from the Phoenix Indian school will start from in front of Mack Gardner's jewelry store at 10 o'clock this morning in the first modified marathon ever held in this city. A ten-mile course out North Central avenue has been laid out, the finish tape also being in front of the Gardner store.

A beautiful diamond medal is offered by Gardner to the winner. Second place will draw a silk shirt from John Hyder, while the third man to finish will be fitted to a new hat at the Vic Hanny store.

The event is being held under the auspices of Mack Gardner, who is one of the leading sportsmen of the city. He has always been active in athletics leading to the development of young men and for this reason, planned the long grind. He hopes to make this one of the big Thanksgiving day sporting events in this city in the years to come. At 10 o'clock promptly, the runners will be sent away on the grind that will carry them straight out North Central avenue for a distance of five miles. Two judges will be stationed at Missouri avenue, where the athletes will be turned back.

The Central avenue course was practically made necessary to provide the runners with a suitable footing. Pavement the entire distance will make it somewhat hard on the feet of the athletes but it was recognized that it would be practically impossible to stage the race over a muddy road.

MISS TAFT FAVORS A STRIKE

(New York Post)

Miss Helen Taft, acting president of

Bryn Mawr college, recently declared in an address before the alumni conference in the Bryn Mawr campaign for one million dollars to increase faculty remuneration, that she wished the professors of the country would organize a union and strike for higher salaries.

The daughter of the ex-president holds that the faculties of Bryn Mawr and other colleges are justified in refusing to serve the country. Miss Taft pointed out that she would not object to a strike as a college executive because she believed it would not be a strike against college executives, the college directors or trustees, but against the public, which ought to be made to pay for its education.

THE COW AND CALF

These, ladies and gentlemen, are known as "The Cow and Calf," of Centre College, Ky. They were so named by their college mates. Their parents named the little fellow, Joe Murphy, and the big one, Ralph Montgomery. But what are such names in college? Murphy weighs 150 pounds and plays a star game at half for Centre. In the West Virginia game a big fellow tackled him with the index finger and thumb and threw him for a "goal" clear under the bleachers. But Joe came up smiling and in the next play added several more yards. He is an old teammate of Chick Harley of Ohio State. They went to high together at Columbus, Ohio. Montgomery is a 219-pound tackle from Ft. Worth, Tex. His father is fire and police commissioner of that town. His aims in life are to finish his college career with the Centre team and then hop into the prize ring and trounce Jack Dempsey. He's taking boxing lessons and carries a wallop. Strange enough this odd pair are roomies and the cleats pals of old Centre.

McBeth Green Visor and Liberty Lens Are In Town

I returned from the coast the first of the week and brought with me the agency for the celebrated Macbeth Green Visor and Liberty Lens.

These products are manufactured by the Macbeth-Evans Glass Company of Pittsburg, Pa., the largest lens manufacturers in the world. They have made lenses for more than 50 years. The battleships of the navy, lighthouses, coast defenses and railroads use Macbeth lenses almost exclusively.

The Macbeth lens with green glass visor for motor cars has naturally met the needs of the motorist completely, because its distribution of light is based on scientific principles.

They give a concentrated brilliancy right in front of the car. The beam extends directly ahead for a great distance. Yet the light is kept well below the line of vision of approaching drivers. This provides a safe driving light and protects you and others against the danger of the blinded driver who cannot see your car or the road.

Put Macbeth Lenses on your car today. Practice "Safety First."

You are invited to come and see a nightly demonstration as to proper focus and adjustment given by Frank Johnson of the Chas. A. Bacon Company, western distributors for Macbeth Lens.

City officials, auto dealers, garage men and the general public are cordially invited to see these demonstrations. They will convince you of the superiority of the Macbeth Green Visor and Liberty Lenses. Seeing is believing.
